- Navigation through the screens

i) Home screen

In this screen the user chooses the desirable nickname and by clicking the <<Let's Play>> button, proceeds to the game page or can open this guide by clicking <<Guide>>.

ii) Game Page

In the Game Page, the player can view his current balance, winning pool, current round as well as his username and he is asked if he desires to play or to logout by clicking the corresponding button <<Let's Play>> and <<Logout>>. Then the user is prompted to draw the cards or forfeit, by clicking the <<Draw>> or <<Forfeit>> buttons respectively. In the first case 4 cards, turned down, are presented in the player's area or in the second case the winning pool is added to his balance and he is asked again to play or logout. Subsequently, the user clicks on the desired card, which is then flipped to reveal its value and the game continues as described in the Rules section.
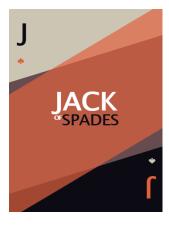

1. The cards

The game have 4 different cards, the 3 of them are winning cards while the last one is a losing card, below the cards are depicted in their category.

The winning cards with values of 2, 5 and 10.

The losing card is a Jack.

2. Rules

The game starts by pressing the button <<Start>>, only if the players has a balance equal or greater than 10. Then the four cards are presented to the player turned down, while the player has to decide if he will reveal a card or forfeit.

f the player decides to reveal a card of his choice, he clicks on the desired one and the card is flipped to reveal its value, else if he decides to forfeit, the game stops and the winning pool is added to the player's balance.

In case the card belongs to the winning cards with values of 2, 5 and 10 the winning pool is increased by the product of the values multiplied by the number of the round, e.g if the player, on the 3rd round reveals the card 5, the winning pool is increased by 3 X 5 = 15 $. Else, if the card is a losing one, the winning pool is discarded.
